MEDIA ORDER

Upon consideration by this Court, it is ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that:

1. Closed-circuit transmissions of the judicial proceeding to a remote location for the media and the general public and to a remote location for the families of the victims have been approved.
2. Permission has been granted for sketch artists to render drawings.
3. Each media agency shall be responsible for ensuring that all its media personnel who cover the court proceedings know and follow the provisions of this order and the Media Plan approved by this Court.
4. There shall be no recording or broadcast of sound from conferences which occur in the courtroom between counsel, between counsel and their client or between counsel and the presiding Judge held at the bench or in chambers.
5. The media are strictly prohibited from any attempts to contact, talk to, or interview potential or chosen jurors, or their immediate families, during the proceedings. During the trial no media will be allowed to make, distribute, publish or broadcast in any way personal information such as the names, telephone numbers or addresses of potential or chosen jurors.
6. There shall be no tapping into the closed-circuit feed, or any audio or visual taping, recording or reproduction in any manner; or rebroadcast at any time of the closed-circuit feed.

7. No one shall use any audio or visual device to record the proceedings while sitting in the courtroom.
8. This order may be modified or terminated at the discretion of the presiding judge. The presiding judge shall at all times have the authority to prohibit, interrupt or terminate the closed-circuit transmission of the proceedings.
9. The Media Plan dated August 21, 2003, prepared by the City of Chesapeake Public Communications Department and the Fairfax County Office of Public Affairs is approved and incorporated in this order for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of that Media Plan.
10. Any violation of this order is punishable by contempt and revocation of media credentials.

Entered on October 31, 2003.
